- About MUSCLE SUIT Every

MUSCLE SUIT Every is a work-assisting robotic suit that lightens the load on the user's back when the user performs hard work, such as maintaining a half-crouching position and lifting up a heavy item or person. The powered exoskeleton, which weighs only 3.8 kilograms, provides up to 25.5kgf of assistive force to its user. The device can be used at various work sites, including manufacturing, farming, nursing care, logistics and construction, since its artificial muscle uses compressed air to provide assistive force without relying on electric power. By the end of April 2021, the number of the products in the MUSCLE SUIT series sold had surpassed 20,000 units all over the world.
